Introducing Brittany Greene: Financial Literacy Expert and Empowerment Catalyst

Ladies and gentlemen,

It is my privilege to introduce a groundbreaking thought leader, financial educator, and empowerment speaker who is transforming lives and reshaping the narrative around financial literacy—Brittany Greene.

From overcoming systemic barriers in her own life to becoming a powerful advocate for financial education, Brittany embodies the message that financial success begins with confidence, clarity, and action. Her inspiring journey—from being denied opportunities due to a lack of financial knowledge to building a thriving platform as the founder and CEO of Crowned Financials—serves as a testament to her resilience, vision, and dedication to empowering others.

Brittany is the creator of the Credit Shoot Bootcamp and Money Design Framework, two innovative programs that combine practical financial tools with mindset transformation. These programs have helped countless students and young professionals build excellent credit, overcome mental roadblocks, and take control of their financial futures. As a certified credit consultant and Ph.D. candidate in Human Behavior, Brittany brings both expertise and empathy to her work, making her a trusted voice for underserved communities, especially minority and first-generation college students.

Her dynamic keynotes and workshops have left a lasting impact on campuses, conferences, and organizations across the nation. Whether she's demystifying credit for students, teaching actionable strategies for wealth-building, or empowering individuals to align their financial decisions with their goals, Brittany's message is clear: financial literacy is the key to opportunity and generational wealth.

Today, she's here to share her transformational message with us. Please join me in welcoming a speaker who educates, inspires, and equips audiences to take charge of their financial futures—the incomparable Brittany Greene.
